Seized Rebels Refuse to Eat in Texas

Brownsville, Tex. (UP)—Thirty-six Cuban rebels refused to eat their oatmeal today and said they will starve to death in the name of liberty. They have missed two meals.

The men, mostly American citizens and New York residents, were captured by a U.S. Coast Guard vessel that rammed their 70-foot chartered freighter. The men planned to join the guerrilla warfare led by Fidel Castro against Cuba's President Fulgencio Batista.

Protesting the federal scuttling of their heavily armed force, they held a religious service this morning and then refused to go to the dining room to a breakfast of oatmeal, bread, coffee and sweet rolls.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Gatliff sent for a priest after the men refused to eat for the second time. Thursday night they refused a meal of bread and spaghetti with meatballs. However, four Ecuadorian crew members ate.

Warns Many May Die From Bone Cancer

ST. LOUIS (UP)—"Many thousands" of persons will suffer agonizing death from bone cancer and leukemia as a result of poison produced by hydrogen bomb tests, Dr. Edward U. Condon predicted today.

Condon, head of Washington University's physics department, addressed the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors convention. He chose as his topic: "What Is This New World?" and answered that question grimly.

"Terrible inequalities exist and many of our social institutions are largely engaged in efforts to maintain them," he said. "Their existence in turn is the principal cause of the frustrations and perversions of human aspirations which lead in infants to bad behavior, in adolescents to juvenile delinquency, in adults to crime and in nations to war."

Condon said that the hydrogen bombs now available have an explosive power of 15 million tons of TNT, and added that one such hydrogen bomb is equivalent to more than five times all the bombs used in Europe during the duration of World War II.

"These weapons are so large and produce such vast quantities of radioactive poison that such poisons have now been found in the bones of people, especially growing children, all over the world. It is no exaggeration to say that many thousands of persons in the world will suffer agonizing death from bone cancer and leukemia as a result of the poison put into the earth's atmosphere by hydrogen bomb tests that we have already conducted."

Washington Hit by Store Burglars

Burglars hit four places at Washington last night getting a total of $175. Tale's Grocery lost nothing. Dudley's Store safe was taken out on a road and reported to $150. Eilers Hardware reports $110 loss and Southwestern Gas and Electric Co. office reported $48 taken. Sheriff Jimmie Cook and State Policeman Mosier are investigating.

Cuban Rebels Seized by Coast Guard

BROWNVILLE, Tex. (UP)—A Coast Guard cutter rammed a Nicaraguan freighter loaded with guns and ammunition off the Texas Gulf Coast today and a U.S. boarding party seized 36 Cuban rebels.

The cargo of the freighter included all kinds of U.S. military rifles and machine guns and there were some reports that artillery was on board. The rebels were all put in jail in Brownsville for violating the arms export law.

The freighter was the El Oro. Two of the 36 men seized were said to be Nicaraguans, but they, like the others, were rebel upstarts. They said they were headed for Cuba to deliver the arms to rebel leader Fidel Castro.

Eight of the rebels were captured. Their leader was Arnaldo Barron, 34, and the group included the Rev. Ygnacio Mosqueda, their Protestant chaplain. Both Barron and Mosqueda bitterly denounced Cuban President Fulgencio Batista.

"We are ready to die for freedom," Barron said. "The fact that we were stopped here does not mean the end of our journey."

"All religious faiths in our country have joined together to seek freedom," Mosqueda said. "Batista burned our churches and all religious faiths are ready to fight him."

Barron disclosed that they sailed Wednesday night from a port in Mexico near Matamoros. Matamoros is across the Rio Grande from Brownsville. But Barron refused to say where they bought the guns and ammunition.

Rain Causes Rockslide in California

A section of the Pacific Coast Highway near Los Angeles lay under 20 feet of mud and rocks today in the wake of a massive dirt slide triggered by heavy rains.

The rain storm in southern California Thursday dumped about one-half inch of water in the Los Angeles area, boosting total precipitation there for the season to 10 inches above the total for a like period last year.

The rain loosened tons of dirt from the Pacific Palisades and sent it cascading down the cliffs and across the four-lane highway.

No one was killed in the slide but one motorist, Forrest Boniface, 42, who was injured when the sea of mud hit his car, said "It just picked us up and floated us along its crest."

Authorities said the highway probably would be closed for several days.

Precipitation eased off in the Northeast Thursday night and today, with only light amounts of rain reported along the coast.

However, considerable cloudiness persisted from the southern Great Lakes into the Valley and east to the Atlantic Coast.

The East Coast rain extended eastward through the night across Nevada and into Utah and Arizona. Snow flurries occurred at higher elevations in the Plateau region and light snow or rain hit scattered areas of eastern Wyoming and Colorado and parts of South Dakota and Nebraska.

Churchill Believed to Be Some Better

ROUBERNE, France (UP)—Aides of Sir Winston Churchill confirmed today that "everything is all right" with the grand old man who first beat a case of pneumonia and this week conquered a relapse.

Churchill's youngest daughter, Mrs. Christopher Soames, 35, was expected to return to London today. She flew to her father's Riviera vacation villa here last Monday with his physician, Lord Moran.

Since then Churchill's condition has improved so much that his aides have stopped reporting on his progress.

All Around Town

This is the weekend to get full benefit of the wonderful sight of acres and acres of peach blossoms in the Nashville area. Reports from the area indicate the orchards are in full bloom.

Henry Coley found a cluster of pine cones on a tree near Spring Hill this week. He brought in a small branch and within a six inch space there were 36 well-developed cones.

That's a mighty fine looking brand new station wagon the Hempstead County Library is delivering books in these days.

Hempstead stations for December show 10 marriages, 45 births and 23 deaths. The deaths numbered two cancer, two heart disease, five and two auto wreck deaths. Howard reported seven marriages, three divorces, 14 births and seven deaths. Lafayette divorces numbered four, there were 14 births and 10 deaths.

Local Industrial Foundation Adopts Bylaws

Directors of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, Inc., at a special meeting last night, completed its organization, adopted by-laws, and accepted Paul McClellan as the 18th member of the board. Mr. McClellan will represent the employe group.

Directors drew for places on the board and will serve, one, two and three-year staggered terms. The date for the annual election of new officers and directors was set for the second Monday of each January at which time all stock holders may cast ballots.

First expenditure for promotion activities, was the adoption of a resolution to pay the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission the balance of a $2500 assessment made on Hempstead county a few years ago when the AIDC was first organized. This balance is $1100.

To Finance Buildings

President James H. Pilkinton told the group that the newly formed corporation's primary function was aiding in the financing of industrial buildings and site locations. He said the group was not in business to furnish operating capital nor to buy machinery and equipment.

"We want our money to go just as far as possible, and when we reach our campaign goal of $250,000 in cash and pledges it will mean the equivalent of a million dollars under existing financial arrangements of 25 percent local participation and 75 percent through AIDC and sale of bonds."

Judge Pilkinton also pointed out that the corporation in no way desired to supercede the functions of Hope chamber of commerce, but sought to work closely with the C. of C. and the AIDC in obtaining industrial prospects.

To Boost Stock Sales

At last night's meeting, the foundation group discussed the importance of quickly winding up the campaign for the $250,000 and a task force will be appointed by Judge Pilkinton to get the job done.

As a stimulant for sale of stock, the group agreed to issue stock certificates "over the counter" to any person desiring to buy shares in the corporation. Each share sells for $5 and the stock certificate will be issued on payment at the office of Hope chamber of commerce.

Persons who have signed pledges and desire to pay their balances may also obtain their stock certificates, which will be issued on payment of the pledge.

The industrial group voted to set up certain committees within the organization, and members of these committees will be announced by Judge Pilkinton within the next few days.

Committee Rejects an Attempt to Economize on the Farm Program

Highway Bill Could Create 600,000 Jobs

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson expressed hope today that the $5,500,000,000 anti-recession highway bill will reach President Eisenhower's desk before Easter.

The Senate approved the measure 34 to 4 Thursday and sent it to the House where leaders hoped it would be considered under a hurry-up procedure.

Johnson said there is a potential 500,000 jobs in the highway bill. These, he said, will be added to between 600,000 and 800,000 new jobs created by the housing bill, which already has reached Eisenhower's desk, and another 400,000 provided by speed-ups in military and civil works projects.

In another anti-recession development, Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell went before the House Ways and Means Committee to spell out details of the President's plan for giving jobless workers additional weeks of unemployment pay.

On the investigative front, the Senate Rackets Committee called back labor leader Walter P. Reuther for more questioning on the Kohler Co. strike and a House Commerce subcommittee planned to question Federal Communications Commissioner Rosel H. Hyde further on the FCC's award of TV Channel 10 in Miami.

Informed sources predicted Eisenhower will veto the Democratic sponsored farm bill and make no accompanying concessions to the farm bloc in doing so. The bill was designed to cancel cuts in farm price supports Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson planned this year.

Forty-two of the Senate's 49 Democrats signed a resolution Thursday asking Eisenhower to sign the bill. Three days ago Republican senators voted 17 to 14 in favor of presidential approval of the measure. But 15 GOP senators were not present for that vote.

Flu Outbreak Closes School at Wynne

WYNNE (UP)—An outbreak of flu closed a Roman Catholic grade school Thursday.

Rev. John Boyce, principal of St. Peter's school, said more than half the enrollment of 62 was absent. He said most had flu but a few were ill with chickenpox. Rev. Boyce said also that one of the three Benedictine Nuns of the school also was in bed with flu. He said tentative plans called for the school to re-open Monday.

Senate Bill Would Cut Highway Funds

By LLOYD HOLBECK
United Press Staff Correspondent

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—State Highway Director Herbert Eldridge said today Arkansas would gain only about $8,000,000 in federal matching funds for state projects if the Senate bill on highway construction is passed.

"That's not very many projects," he added.

The bill under consideration would appropriate $400,000,000 over and above regular matching funds for primary, secondary and urban roads. States would have to put up $30 for each $70 the government provided. The bill also would provide money for the federal interstate program, so that it would be paid for in 18 years rather than the 16 scheduled now.

Eldridge said the extra money "would make a big difference to contractors."

U. S. Planning One Moon Try Fairly Soon

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States may send at least one rocket soaring to the moon within the next seven to nine months, said top high-ranking defense sources today.

Whether Russia will get there first is unknown here. The Russians had been expected to send a rocket to the moon soon but Moscow's Pravda newspaper indicated Thursday a Red launching may be held off some time.

It was learned several second-stage rockets of the Navy's Vanguard satellite-launcher already have been ordered for use with the Air Force Thor as a "moon probe" rocket. The Thor is the Air Force intermediate range ballistic missile and will be "married" with the second-stage Vanguard rocket for moon exploration shots.

The Army is studying the possibility of using a single powerful rocket as a second stage for its Jupiter-C launcher to carry out its part of the moon program announced by the White House and Defense Department Thursday.

The present Jupiter-C has four stages. The top three are clusters of solid fuel rockets. Some Army experts believe a two-stage Jupiter-C would be better for moon shots than the multi-stage vehicle used to launch Army "Explorer" satellites.

To carry out the program for exploring the "vicinity of the moon" the Defense Department may soon seek a special appropriation.

President Eisenhower gave the Defense Department the go-ahead Thursday for moon exploration projects.

Approves Money for Programs in the Future

By UNITED PRESS

The House Appropriations Committee today voted the Agriculture Department $3,216,000,000 for fiscal 1959 after rejecting administration attempts to economize on the farm program.

An accompanying report drafted by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) said that "every economic recession has started on the farm" and that action taken by the Appropriations Committee will bolster farm income.

While the measure carries in direct cash $103,000,000 less than President Eisenhower requested, it actually provides for more spending on future farm programs. More than offsetting the reduction, for example, was $369,500,000 authorized for next year's conservation subsidies, purchase of perishable foods, and lending authority for farm electrification, telephone service, and credit programs.

Meantime, five more Republican senators urged the President to sign into law a bill passed by Congress last week to freeze farm price supports and planning allowances at 1957 levels. Forty-two Democratic senators made a similar plan for the anti-recession measure Thursday.

On another money-bill front today, the House Appropriations Committee approved a 15-million dollar bill to run the White House, the President's office, and other executive agencies in fiscal 1959 beginning July 1.

Included was the administration's full request for $750,000 to finance the new Civil Rights Commission. The six-man committee was created by the 1957 civil voting rights and other civil rights rights law to investigate denial of issues.

Elsewhere in Congress, Economic Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told the House Ways and Means Committee that Democratic sponsored unemployment relief plans "are discriminatory." He called instead for a quick passage of President Eisenhower's program to extend federal state unemployment benefits.

Highways: The House sent the $5,500,000,000 anti-recession highway bill to conference with the Senate in hopes it can be rushed to the White House for signature before the April 3 recess.

FCC: Federal Communications Commissioner Rosel H. Hyde charged the House subcommittee investigating the FCC had been "reckless with reputations" in its charges of misconduct. He was one of five commissioners accused of personal misconduct by ousted Subcommittee Counsel Bernard Schwartz.

Rackets: United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther told Senate rackets investigators he was certain that Gov. C. Mennen Williams to testify about a controversial extradition case. The case involves John Gunnes, a union member wanted in Wisconsin, to an assault charge in connection with the union's 4-year-old strike against the Kohler plumbing fixtures company.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) also urged swift action on the highway bill.

Americans Smoke More Than Ever

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government says Americans smoked more cigarettes than ever last year despite statistics linking smoking and lung cancer.

The Agriculture Department announced late Thursday that 442 billion cigarettes were manufactured in 1957 — about 18 billion more than in 1956 and nearly 7 billion above the previous record set in 1952.

It's too bad these engaging young charms aren't a little more smoking.

Adlai Urges Trade Program Extension

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today that failure to extend the reciprocal trade program will weaken Western alliances, hurt U.S. world leadership and "push the great undeveloped areas into Communist arms."

He said the long-term result would be to "isolate, impoverish and impoverish" the United States.

In an address prepared for a White House backed national conference for support of extension of the reciprocal trade program, the two-time presidential candidate told protectionist opponents of the program that no nation can be an island by itself in the modern world.

He said this includes the United States. Millions of its citizens, he added, derive their livelihood from trade.

Furthermore, he said, many nations U.S. Allies live through trade. Unless these nations can trade with the United States without restrictive tariffs, he said, they may be forced to turn to the Soviet world.

"It would be a savage irony if the Japan we preserved from Communist aggression by bloodshed in the Korean War should be driven by American business into the arms of the Communists," Stevenson said.

President Eisenhower will make a major address on behalf of the trade program at a conference dinner tonight. The speech will be carried "live" by all radio networks and by ABC-TV between 8:30 and 9 p.m. c.s.t.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Speaker Sam Rayburn also are among those scheduled to address the conference.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks told delegates that the administration program is a "massive force" for strengthening employment and thwarting Russia's "global economic drive."

He said America will sink to the "peril point in economic security and national safety" if "through utter blindness to dan-

Production of Broilers Down

LITTLE ROCK (UPI)—Production of broiler chicks in Arkansas was down two per cent for the week ending last Saturday from the previous week, the Crop Reporting Service announced today.

The figure was 2,535,000, compared with 2,570,000 the same week before.

Of the total placements in Arkansas, 1,977,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 558,000 were shipped in from other states.

A total of 427,000 broiler chicks was shipped out of Arkansas during the week, and 3,085,000 eggs for broilers were set, up one per cent from the week before.

The indicated placement of pullet chicks for broiler hatchery supply flocks by 10 of the largest primary breeders totaled 2,270,000 in February, up 14 per cent from February, 1957, the service reported.

Donald Poe, 55, of Waldron, filed his corrupt practices pledge and paid his $750 filing fee to Secretary of State C. G. Hall.

Poe is a practicing attorney and operates a dairy farm. He represented Scott county in the Arkansas house in 1957, and the fifth senatorial district in the upper chamber in the 1949 and 1951 sessions.

MARKED TREE (UPI)—State police said Wednesday Henry P. Long, 68, of Marked Tree, was killed when his car overturned on highway 73 a mile south of here. Larty Armstrong, 32, a passenger in the car, was taken to a Memphis hospital for treatment of a broken leg.

The authorities said Long's car missed a curve less than a mile from his home.

O. L. Dunaway Dies at Little Rock

CONWAY (UP)—Oscar Lee Dunaway, 80, suffered a stroke in his sleep early today, and died about six hours later at a Conway hospital. He was the father of Dr. Ed L. Dunaway, chairman of the Arkansas racing commission.

He had lived in Conway since 1922, was a graduate of Hendrix College at Conway and George Peabody College at Nashville, Tenn. He was a former superintendent of schools at Prescott, Texarkana, Tex., and Hot Springs, Ark. Dunaway was recognized as an outstanding authority on the Bible. He traveled and lectured extensively for the Christadelphian faith.

Surviving are his widow, four sons, one daughter, two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services are to be held at a funeral home here at 4 p.m. Friday.

Ethyl fluid for automobile gasoline was invented by Thomas Midgley Jr., an Ohioan.

This is the time to start getting your hair ready to look its best under the new spring clothes and turbans. If it needs oil treatments after the dryness of winter, you've plenty of time for them now. This girl starts with her weekly shampoo (left). But she gives herself a thorough scalp massage at the same time. After a brisk towelling to remove excess water, she sets her hair while it's slightly damp and finishes the drying process (center) with a home hair dryer. The dryer leaves both hands free for a manicure. She brushes her hair into a soft hairdo that will look well (right) under turban or cloche.

DOROTHY DIX

"Straight Man" Gives Loyalty, Not Laughs

Dear Dorothy Dix: My friends consider me a very witty, clever person. I love a boy who has not one bit of humor. In fact, he's a stodgy, stolid person but I know his other qualities of loyalty, consideration, and honesty would make him a marvelous family man. Do you think I could adjust to his commonplace intelligence and be happy?

Dear Poppy: You sure can if you want too. You put too much stress on the importance of being a wit. It's a wonderful gift if you have it, but entirely dispensable. Furthermore, there's no guarantee that a witty person will be as bright around his own house as he is with company. Many a dear or brilliant reporter is a grouch in the confines of his own home. Let your supply of cleverness do for both. A good family man whose conversational repertoire runs the gamut from "yes, dear" to "I love you" is a husband to cherish.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When meeting a boy on the street, would it make a better impression to look the other way or at him?

SHIRLEY: Look at the boy and say hello! Then he'll think you're a pleasant friendly person. Look the other way and he'll peg you as a snob.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Three weeks ago I bleached my hair without telling my parents. Consequently, they won't let me out for a month. I made an awful impression on my family and friends because they said I was trying to be "sexy" and attract attention. I realize that

Sunday School Lesson

The Communion of Saints

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The Communion of Saints sometimes known as "the Lord's Supper," is a rite observed by various churches or "communions," commemorating the original Lord's Supper in the upper room (1 Corinthians 11:23-26).

The times and nature of its observance have varied among Christian churches and sects. In the Canadian Methodist churches in which I grew up it was a part of a quarterly observance. The service lasted a long time and was very impressive.

What I remember also, was the solemn invitation from the Book of Common Prayer, continued in the Methodist Church from its Anglican source: "Ye who do truly and humbly repent of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbors, draw near by faith."

I quote from memory as I do not have the Book of Common Prayer at hand, and the words may not be exact, but the soul-searching invitation stuck deep into the sincerity and reality of Christian living, and to a Protestant it may well have meant something of what the confessional means to a Roman Catholic, though in this case confession was directly to God, and not to another individual.

I have no doubt whatever that those quarterly services left a deep and lasting influence upon many as they did upon me in my impressionable youth.

More commonly, I think, the communion service has been observed monthly, though in some Christian circles it is observed every Sunday.

Also, lest the outward observance of a rite be exalted above the inward observance of the heart, some good Christians do not observe it at all.

Various church bodies have been known as "communions," emphasizing the fact that what ought to be the most sacred rite of the Christian church, symbolizing the Christian fellowship of all at 14 I shouldn't have done it. Now I'm branded as a bleached-bonde. I really did it because my hair was drab. How can I win back the reputation I lost? MARNIA

Dear Marnia: Don't you read newspapers or magazines or listen to the radio, or watch TV? If you did, you'd know that drab-looking hair can be brightened by much less drastic means than bleaching which went out about the same time as the covered wagon. Beauticians have solved your problem, pay attention to them. As for your reputation, I doubt if it has been seriously impaired. Girls do all sorts of tricks with their hair today without incurring gossip. Your general behavior is more important than the color of your curls. Watch that, and be more sensible in the future.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a family of five daughters and one son. The girls are all happily married, so the problem is, of course with the boy. His girl friends have always been quiet, respectable young ladies, until he met Katy, who is inclined to be wild and fast. He's head over heels in love with her. I've explained right from wrong to him, but he won't give her up. Why can't he like the nice girls instead of the wild ones? MIND UP MOTHER

Dear Mom: The answer to your question is one of the great riddles of the universe, and there is no answer, and no solution except in prayer. Is Katy really a wild girl or just livelier than most? Perhaps if you get acquainted with her, she won't seem so bad. It's usually the unknown that's so sinister. If your son is really in love with the wrong girl, you can't do much with him. Get what counsel you can, especially from your clergymen and above all, pray.

Appeals Filed Over Insurance Payments

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Two appeals were filed with the state Supreme Court Wednesday concerning insurance payments to widows of two men supposedly killed by their wives.

Ada York of Johnsonville, administratrix of the estate of O. D. York and Felton Hampton, alleged the law prevents their widows from receiving benefits from $2,000 insurance policies. She said Earle H. York and Dorothy Marie Hampton were not entitled to the money because they killed their husbands.

The two women contended they killed their husbands in self-defense in unrelated family arguments.

The insurance policies were issued under a group coverage program of the Bradley Lumber Co. in Warren.

ILLEGAL

It is against the law to reproduce any government obligation. A check from federal sources is a government obligation, and it is just as illegal to reproduce it as it is to reproduce money.

who bear the name of Christ, has been an occasion of divisiveness and even of contention.

The practice of a "World Communion" in October, has now, however, done much to correct that divisiveness and make Christian communion what it ought to be.

In my own practice, long before the "World Communion" was established, I always sought to emphasize that we were not a small company, but that our communion was with the entire Church militant and triumphant, with "the great cloud of witnesses."

"I think that nothing less attains the full meaning of Christian communion, and lifts the rite out of all sectarian divisiveness."

Is there any greater need in this world than that it should be said today, as it was said of early Christians, "See how these Christians love one another?"

Bus Lines Tell of Rate Hike Need

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Commerce Commission today heard witnesses representing 12 bus lines say their companies need a rate increase.

The bus lines all said the 10 per cent rate increase, requested by the National Bus Traffic Association, is needed because of increasing costs and decreasing revenues.

The representative of the Continental Southern Line, Elywin Roundtree, of Alexandria, La., said his company expects to lose $53,000 in Arkansas this year if the increase is not granted. He said the company lost more than company's net income in the state $30,000 in the state in 1957. If the increase is approved, would be $9,000, he estimated.

Governor Names Advisory Group

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Appointment of Sen. Marshal Shackelford Jr., of El Dorado, and Rep. Paul Van Dalsen of Perryville to a special committee of the Southern States' Advisory Committee on Problems of the Aging was announced today.

Gov. Orval Faubus named Shackelford, and Weems Russell, chairman of the Arkansas Commission on Interstate Cooperation, named Van Dalsen.

The special committee will gather data on problems of the aged, such as employment and housing, to present to the Advisory Committee.

Some Support for a Fact Finding Group
By DICK WEST
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—Walter
P. Reuther picked up some congressional support today for his proposal that a presidential fact-finding board study the issues in the 4-year-old Kohler strike.

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), vice chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, told reporters he might introduce legislation authorizing President Eisenhower to appoint a board of inquiry.

He said a state board plan in effect in New York since 94 has had "irreparable results." Although the President probably already has authority to set up such a board, Ives said, some legislative support might be useful.

Reuther, quick-thinking, fast-talking president of the United Auto Workers, made the proposal during his appearance before the Rackets Committee Thursday.

Reuther said he ordinarily opposed government intervention in labor disputes but felt the UAW's long strike against the Kohler Co.
had reached the point where some federal assistance was required.

"We've tried everything else,"
he said.

He said the Kohler, Wis., firm has declined to arbitrate the issue and that public opinion could be brought into play through a fact-finding panel. He suggested it be composed of "three outstanding Americans who have no axe to grind."

The White House declined to comment on the proposal but administration officials said there is no law covering such a situation.
They said it could not be done without a request from both sides.

Police and Negro Exchange Gunfire
LITTLE ROCK (UP)—City
police exchanged gunfire with a Negro today when they stopped to question him about a house burglary.

The man was identified as Dave Davis, 20, of Little Rock. He was being held on an open charge.

Police received a call from a woman in the central part of the city that her house had been burglarized. While two detectives were enroute to the scene, the police received a call from another woman about six blocks from the first that a Negro, armed with a pistol, had just run out of her house. The detectives spotted the man and when they stopped to talk to him, the man shot at them.
They fired back but no one was hit.

Police said Davis has a prison record.

ing events will be held Saturday.

The present holder of the senior men's title, David Jenkins, Colo-

Hawks, Celtics in Pro Cage Finals

By UNITED PRESS

For the second straight year it's the Boston Celtics vs the St. Louis Hawks in the finals of the National Basketball Assn. playoffs. The finals open Saturday afternoon with a nationally-televized game.

The Celtics and the Hawks each won their divisional finals by a 4-1 score in games Thursday night. Boston downed the Philadelphia Warriors, 93-88, in Boston as big Bill Russell led the way with 18 points and 30 rebounds.
St. Louis stormed to a 120-93 win over the Detroit Pistons at St.
Louis as Cliff Hagan scored 32.

Coach Red Auerbach of the Celtics quickly turned his mind to the finals and said, "I feel this one will undoubtedly go the seven games."

Auerbach predicted that the finals would last longer than the Warriors' series because the Hawks "are bigger, and stronger than the Warriors."

Others Make Bids
Jack Sanford of the Philadelphia Eagles, Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs and Chuck Stobbs of the Washington Senators also made bids for opening day assignments with strong pitching efforts.

Sanford, rookie of the year in the National League as a 19-game winner last season, yielded two runs in seven innings as the Phillies beat the Chicago White Sox 6-2. Harry Anderson and Stan Lopala, hit homers for the Phillies off 16 game winner Dick Donovan but Bob Keegan blanked the National Leagueans for the last five frames.

Lawrence allowed one run and three hits as he also went seven innings in the Redlegs' 9-1 romp over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Yanks Rally
Stobbs, 9-10, last year, was touched for a homer by Don Blasingame and only one other hit in six innings in the Washington Senators' 2-1 decision over the St.
Louis Cardinals.

The New York Yankees rallied for three runs in the ninth to beat the Kansas City Athletics, 5-4, at the San Francisco Giants clobbered the Baltimore Orioles, 10-0, and the Boston Red Sox shaded the Los Angeles Dodgers, 2-1, in other games.

Other camp news: Catcher Del

Montreal Soars to a Two Game Lead

The "rocket-fired" Montreal Canadiens were soaring along with a 2-0 lead over the Detroit Red Wings today in their semifinal series in the National Hockey League playoffs.

Sparked by Maurice (Rocket) Richard's two goals, the Canadians ripped the Red Wings, 5-1, Thursday night at Montreal and now need only two more victories to reach the Stanley Cup final for the eighth straight year.

In the other semifinal, the Boston Bruins tied the New York Rangers at one victory apiece by edging the Blueshirts, 4-3, on a "sudden death" goal by Jerry Tompazini at 4:46 of the first overtime period at New York.

The third games in each series will be played Saturday night in Detroit and Boston.

Crawford, Turner Battle Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Mickey Walkerwell, gets his opening shot on the big time tonight in Crawford (flashy young Michigan Turner) to close the winter season at Madison Square Garden.

Although unrated among contenders, Irish Mickey is favored at 7-5 to beat sixth-ranked Turner at Philadelphia in this last fight of the Garden until May 18.

It will be the first appearance for Crawford in the Garden and on a national TV network but he is favored because of his artistic left jab and his rapid-fire combinations. However, he's a comparatively light puncher.

Scientists Eager to Send Up a Clock

WASHINGTON (UP) — U.S. scientists are eager to send a clock into space in an earth satellite "as soon as possible" to test one of the late Albert Einstein's theories of relativity.

This was disclosed Wednesday night by President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee in a report on what is feasible now and what lies far in the future in space exploration.

President Eisenhower said he found the report, entitled "Introduction to Outer Space," to be "so informative and interesting that he wanted to share it with the people of America and indeed with all the people of the earth."

He said it was "not science fiction" but "a sober realistic presentation prepared by leading scientists."

In discussing the future projects, the scientists made clear that man is not going to the moon anytime soon. They said he might do so "within one or two decades" or might not accomplish the feat even "in this century."

Plan Civilian Agency

They said one "rough estimate" has been made that it will require an investment of two billion dollars spent "over a number of years" to put a man on the moon and return him safely to earth.

A more immediate project, they said, is a "terrestrial and lunar satellite experiment" that physicists want to run "as soon as possible." This would involve a test of Einstein's theory that a clock will run faster as the gravitational field around it is reduced.

The scientists' report was issued a few hours after this country's third artificial moon, Explorer III, went into orbit.

A few hours after this country's third artificial moon, Explorer III, went into orbit.

The President disclosed earlier that he would ask Congress soon to provide the civilian control "of government activities incident to civilian space programs."

The President announced this without elaboration, at his news conference. He presumably plans to seek creation of a new civilian agency to take over satellite and other strictly scientific space programs from the Defense Department.

Cost "Comparatively Low"

The special report of Eisenhower's scientific advisers was seen as an answer to some scientists and laymen who have advocated a crash program to beat Russia in manned flight to the moon and planets.

It made these points:

Crash programs in space science are not in the national interest if they weaken other scientific endeavors. "Research in outer space affords new opportunities in science, but it does not diminish the importance of science on earth," the report said.

The cost of exploring space with unmanned satellites and instruments is "comparatively low" while the cost of transporting men and material through space "will be extremely high."

The report said it would require a giant rocket engine with a thrust of about "one or two million pounds" to land a man on the moon and get him home safely. This compares with a thrust of 33,000 pounds for the satellite-launching Vanguard rocket.

Marlene Wed 35 Years to Same Man

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the second of two "Woman's View" columns on actress Marlene Dietrich.)

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Women's Editor. NEW YORK (UP) — Marlene Dietrich has been married to the same man for 35 years, which by the Hollywood yardstick sets some sort of record for the conventional.

Yet it is a marriage unconventional by most standards. Miss Dietrich spends a great deal of her time either in New York, where daughter Maria lives and where she has an apartment, in Europe, or in Las Vegas and Miami.

Her husband, Rudolph Sieber, sticks pretty closely to his chicken ranch in California's San Fernando Valley.

Is the marriage a happy one, despite the time the couple spends apart? "I was always a happy man and I have never been happier," Sieber recently told Joe Hyams, West Coast reporter for the New York Herald Tribune.

Marriage Unusual

"Perhaps our marriage will seem unusual," he added. "But we are happy together and that is all that truly matters."

"Of course I see him when I'm on the coast," said the actress who once described Sieber as the "ideal husband." "And I'm on the coast a lot. At least four months of the year. But Maria's here and I'm more here than there."

She and Sieber were married in Berlin in 1923. They met when he was directing a film in which she had a small part. Daughter Maria, married to William Biva, a movie designer, has three small

THE STORY: Lily Barker Alderton has been told by her husband that fustlers are stealing their cattle. Jeff Alderton is a candidate for governor. Tom Weber, Lily's childhood idol, has returned to Lobo valley, but Lily does not know this, as yet.

"Rustling — on Lobo Lily was surprised. It was something that had never been mentioned during her tenure on the ranch."

"Fred Case tells me that our calf crop north of the river is the smallest he's ever known."

"That's Lobo country. They've always killed stock up there."

"I haven't seen three lobos this past year. Neither have the boys. Besides — it's more than that. Fred says between six and eight hundred. Maybe more."

"But where could the rustlers — if it is rustlers — drive the stock?"

"Rawlins touches us on the north and east. There's about three miles of common border between us and Rawlins."

"Surely you're not accusing Rawlins?"

"No," replied Alderton glumly. "You don't accuse a rustler—until you catch him." He paused. "I'm sure it isn't Rawlins himself. He's put one of those salty characters lately and I wouldn't put it past any of them to sweeten up their pay a bit."

"Would it help any to talk to Mike Denver? After all, he's Rawlins' brother-in-law."

"But he's hardly his brother-in-law's keeper!"

The sun shining through the broken barn roof awakened Weber. He walked to the well, drew a bucket of water and washed his face and hands and became aware that he had eaten almost nothing the day before.

He went into the house where he found a chunk of mildewed bacon and a sack of hominy grits. He cooked some of the hominy on the dirty stove, drank a cup of strong coffee and gnawed a piece of the bacon.

The house was in poor shape. The barn was a complete wreck. Everything was rundown, shabby like Weber himself.

A sudden anger shot through him. What was he thinking about this was not for him.

He found his few belongings, wrapped them about his revolver and rolled the whole into the town newspaper in which he had carried them for the past two weeks. Without a backward glance at the house, he started for the road and turned left to head for Barker-ville.

After about 15 minutes of walking, he became aware of something he had not seen the night before, a neat little farmhouse on the left, a fenced garden and a few head of cattle. Another few minutes' walk brought him to still another farm, this one with a field of wheat fenced in. He passed a third and fourth farm, then went along a mile of open range and made the third river crossing. It was open range country from here on.

He was walking steadily, his eyes on the road, when he rounded a turn in the road and saw a rig ahead. It stood on three wheels. A man was trying to lift up the side of the buckboard so his companion, a woman, could move the fourth wheel onto the axle. The buckboard was apparently too heavy for the man, for as Weber approached he suddenly cried and let go. The buckboard sagged.

The woman saw Weber and spoke to the man. He turned as Weber came up.

"Here, stranger," he said, "can you give us a hand?"

The man was Jeff Alderton, two years older than Weber. At children.

Marlene Dietrich has shaped a life of contrast — perennial glamour girl on the one hand, hausfrau on the other.

She has done her own decorating scheme — living room furnished with her collection of paintings and Louis XV antiques she has gathered through the years of travel. Color scheme — soft beiges, white and dull gold. The bedroom also is predominant, by dull gold.

Loves To Cook

"I wanted an apartment with a good kitchen," she explained that while she was in Hollywood making her newest movie, "Witness for the Prosecution," she invited the cast and director to a dressing-room cooked lunch. "I ended up fixing lunch every day from then on," she said.

"I do all sorts of dishes. Russian, French, German and Italian. But I'm no good at American style. Hamburgers are Maria's department."

Five years ago the movie actress began her career as a night-club singer. Her debut in Las Vegas was in the usual Dietrich manner of the spectacular. She stood in the spotlight in a "bosomless" (transparent from the waist up) dress, designed by Jean Louis of Hollywood, and sang in her throaty voice. "Men cluster to me like moths around a flame."

She brought the house down and has been doing the same since in regular appearances in Las Vegas and Miami.

The cost of the contemplated interstate network would be shared on a 50 per cent federal and in per cent state basis.

Margaret Takes Trip to Germany

LONDON (UP) — A suddenly publicity-shy Princess Margaret flew to Germany today on a trip that put off any further meetings with Peter Townsend and delayed an expected royal reprimand from her sister the queen.

Margaret, apparently sulking over the publicity that pushed her sister and her royal tour of Holland right off the front pages, glared at a crowd of newsmen and photographers keeping vigil outside her home.

And as she departed to visit British troops in Germany, Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at Dover aboard the royal yacht Britannia. They were all smiles.

Police sources expected her to ask Margaret why she didn't delay her tea-time reunion with Townsend until the carefully planned tour of Holland was finished.

Members of the palace set were frankly critical of the princess' timing and used such words as "thoughtless" rather freely about a royal personage.

However, the favorite Daily Herold said today in a front-page editorial "few people could blame" the princess if she changed her mind about marrying Townsend who left London today for Somerset to visit his mother and two sons.

It called Margaret's tea party "timely and considerate."

A crooked grin twisted Weber's lips as he stowed away the dollar in his pocket.
